- Acquisition of new customers and expansion of existing business relationships from the Putzbrunn location and on site
- Creation of process concepts up to the preparation of quotations
- Follow-up of offers and process support until contract conclusion
- Processing of tenders
- Attendance at international trade fairs

What awaits you:

- A supportive and flexible team
- An innovative and varied field of activity in the area of environmental protection
- A job at the Putzbrunn site, with the possibility of international assignments
- Thorough, practice-oriented training

What is required:

- Completed technical studies (preferably process engineering, environmental engineering, municipal water management or similar) or relevant professional experience in a comparable technical field.
- Work experience in sales, experience in the water and waste water sector is an advantage
- Business fluency in English, Arabic and/or French would be an advantage
- Enthusiasm for solution-oriented sales of process engineering systems
- Systematic and independent working style
- Strong customer focus, negotiation skills and confident demeanor
- Good knowledge of MS Office
- Ability to work in an international team
- Willingness to travel for customer support and acquisition
